Children's Mental Health Week

All week the children have been participating in activities to support good mental health. At the start of the week pupils were relaxing their mind with some yoga and meditation. Following this, they engaged in some nature activities such as making mobiles from natural materials. Other activities included some whole class artwork, circle time and learning how to give complements. Finally, today pupils have come to school dressed to impress with some lovely vibrant outfits to show their personality.

Safer Internet Day

Sandwiched into Mental Health Week, we also had safer internet day. Pupils learned all about how to stay safe online, making some wonderful posters that are displayed in school.

If parents would like more information on how to keep their child safe online, the following websites have useful information and some step-by-step guides...

The Tiger Who Came to Tea

Our pupils in Reception have been really enjoying the book of the week - The Tiger Who Came to Tea. Around school the pupils have been putting up signs saying, "no tigers allowed" and "keep out tiger". They even watched some video footage of the tiger visiting their classroom. We are not too worried though as he seems to be a very friendly tiger.

Please ensure your child arrives on time for school.
Children that are late miss essential learning.
