

17th February 2023 – Weekly Newsletter

Half Term

We have crammed so much into this half term. From escape rooms, to discos, to Chinese New Year - it has certainly been a busy time and Christmas seems a distant memory. I have seen so many good things in school in terms of the way our pupils help each other, the kindness they show to one another and the resilience they show when a challenge is presented. I am very proud of each and every one of them for this. Our school is a happy environment and it's the pupils and staff that make it so.

I hope that you all have a nice week off school. Please make sure that you stay safe and we look forward to seeing you on Monday 27th February.

Strike Action

As you may be aware, the next planned strike day will be on Tuesday 28th February. We will have the same arrangements in school as we did on the last strike day. Only pupils that have been previously notified should attend on that day.

Places to Look After

This week in assembly we have been talking about how we can look after various places. From classrooms to parks and rivers, the pupils have learnt about how we can be respectful to places and look after them, so that they look nice and others can continue to enjoy them. This is such a good lesson to take into half term so pupils can put their learning into practice.

Toys

We have recently had a number of pupils bringing toys into school. This can be very disruptive and there is also a risk of them being misplaced. Can we politely ask that pupils do not bring toys into school.

Please ensure your child arrives on time for school.
Children that are late miss essential learning.

Congratulations to this week's achievers:
