

22nd March 2024 – Weekly Newsletter

Attendance and Punctuality

Our attendance over the last couple of weeks has been superb, averaging at 99%. I am so pleased that pupils have been able to come to school and enjoy their learning. Our school is such a happy friendly place, made special by the pupils and staff in it.

Attendance aside, we still have a small number of pupils that arrive late on almost a daily basis. I would just like to remind you that when a pupil is late it can often make them anxious about walking into the classroom. Late pupils also miss out on essential learning and social activities which are integral to their development. You may not think that 5 minutes is important but it really is.

Values Week

Next week we are going to finish off the term in style with values week. We have some fun activities and experience planned for all pupils including the opportunity for younger pupils to work with older pupils. Our values of nurture, experience, respect and community are very important to our happy learning environment and we can't wait to celebrate and reinforce them with pupils.

Easter Competition

We have had some beautiful entries for our Easter bonnet and egg decorating contest. The creativity shown by pupils and parents is amazing. From talking to some parents, it sounds like it has also been a good opportunity to do a nice craft activity with your child. There is still time to complete an entry and bring it in for Monday!

Congratulations to this week's achievers:
